(54) Title: A CONTAINER FOR HOLDING FOODSTUFFS

(57) Abstract: The invention relates to a novel container (1) for holding foodstuffs. The container is of the type used for a holding bulk food product to be dispensed by a self serving customer in the bulk food section of a supermarket or health food establishment. The container includes a self closing lid (2) and is specially shaped to avoid the existence of a "dead space" which can lead to product in that portion becoming stale.
